Dance Of The Old Timers Was Most Successful Affair

The 20th annual OH Timers' Dance was another huge success when over 500 people attended the show. Regardless of the jam-packed crowd, the doors of the hall were open and everyone was so much that demanded an extra hour of dancing, consequently it was four o'clock before the final curtain was run down. During "the evening Bob Brown master of ceremonies made a short speech to the audience and for all of the 20 dances held Art Bremer had supplied the music and played with the orchestra on these occasions. Mr. Bremer replied by saying he hoped to work harder at his job to play more dances. Art plays just as good and looks just as young as he did 20 years ago he should be able to do so. The crowd gave Art three cheers.

Shortage Of Workers

A British Columbia news item tells of a shortage of both mining and lumber workers. What this seems to mean is that when people talk about current employment conditions they usually mean the scarcity of selected jobs. A majority of the sort of work people would like to get if they could get it.

Well, there never has been a time in the world's history when there was not a shortage of the sort of work everybody wanted and there never will be. Indeed, in such a world economic and social life would break down; there would be nobody to do the necessary work of maintaining civilization to existance.

You can't all chose the posts in life that we would like, even though we may think we could fill them than those who have them; can't all grow the farmland produce that we look after. Instead, in a world where most of us have to earn our living by the sweat of our brow we must be content with our appointed tasks, realizing that life is a process of adjustment over一生. Major period of command at Winnipeg, Major Lewis, M.R.E., was the second in command of the unit from 1921 to 1927. He went to the reserve of officers but soon "to accommodate" the 2nd and 3rd units in 1930 Capt. J. W. House was padre of the unit for years. In 1940 he offered his services as an active officer and had been the commanding officer ever since. He has always been a tower of strength for the unit.

22nd Battery Returning Home Will Be Demobilized

"The Gleichen Gunners" (22nd Battery) are expected back shortly. This is the end of the Battery but it will be through here and be demobilized in Canada.

Local people should watch the daily papers and listen to radio announcements and enquire locally concerning the time the train carrying the unit will pass through Gleichen. It is hoped and expected that this train will stop here for a few minutes.

Turn out and give the boys a good send-off.

Local presence at the station is all that is needed. Remember, Gleichen is the smallest place in Canada to be represented by a fighting unit of its own. Show your appreciation by cheering the train as it goes along the line of active service.

Many men in this unit never saw or heard of Gleichen since they come from all parts of Canada. Leave them a good impression and welcome back the few local boys who still serve this battery. It would be an awful disappointment to them if you failed.

HISTORY OF THE BATTERY

The 22nd Battery was organized in the year 1921. Lieut-Col. A. G. Lewis, V.D., was the commanding spirit who had consecrated Ottawa, our little town, would never have got the unit.

From its inception, this battery was a credit to the town. It trained a band of young men in all phases of athletic training. The Gleichen Gunner Hockey Team, which was a product of this unit, did more to advertise the town than anything else, and it also did much healthy sports work.

When Major Lewis was made Lieut-Col. and Brigade Commander, the command of the unit went to Major Bob Taylor and he was followed by Major Bob Dugdow, M.M. who was the C.O. when the battery was disbanded.

Col. Lewis has retired and lives at his old post. Major Taylor had an inviable war record and Major Dugdow has had a distinguished career.

BOX FACTORY RUMPS

There is no doubt that the C.C.F. is having a hot and heavy time of it in Prince Albert, where the government has been forced to take over the factory, when there was a dispute between the management and the workers. Some evidence of this was the announcement that, two weeks ago, the factory was taken over by the Saskatchewan C.C.C. government, raised the price of its products substantially. Formerly, Kindling sold for $2.25 a rack delivered, whereas now it is $4.00. Slabs and edgings which formerly sold for 47.75 cents are now $6 a cord.

Hot on the heels of this announcement was a broadside which the Right Wing of the C.C.C. P.U. put out at its largest mailing list. This broadside sets forth the "facts" as the propagandists see them. As far as the consumers of the by-products of the Prince Albert Box factory are concerned, the "facts" are: "A 77 per cent increase in the price of kindling and a 27 per cent increase in the price of slabs and edgings."

The government wishes to return the factory to the management, but it is not clear whether it will draw very much interest. It looks like another example of the C.C.C. boxing itself in.

In nine cases out of ten, he'll be thinking what he might make out of it. Instead of hanging people, Canada has hung a controlled price tag on practically every item, and many people have blessed the control that keeps prices where they are.

The Need For Confidence

IT IS NOW APPARENT that there are many obstacles in the way of permanent peace and security for the world and that the war has left many difficult problems which must be solved. Much of the responsibility of solving these problems lies with the British Government, the United States, Great Britain, the United States and Russia, and a great deal of our hope for the future rests on the actions and decisions of these great powers. Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, High Commissioner for the United Kingdom in Canada, dealt with this subject in a recent public address, in which he stated that the British people were fully aware of the importance of the future peace of the world. At the same time he continued each great power has many vicious critics who seek to stir up suspicion and misunderstanding. As an example, recall how the British people have been branded as "selfish reactionaries bent on exploiting weaker peoples for their own ends in an outward imperialism."

Should Look For The Truth
In the same spirit critics have declared that the people of the United States are materialistic and concerned only with furthering their own interests. In this they are wrong. The High Commissioners believe that little hope could be held for the future. Fortunately none of them are true, but it is important that people take the trouble to find out the truth about such matters and that they form their opinions around facts which they can be sure of. In regard to materialism, there are two main facts which showed that this was not a real political or economic exploitation, both of which have been included in criticisms of the Empire. It has been said that the British wish to hold the Colonial peoples in subjection; yet the true facts in this connection are that the British Colonial Administration has as its main purpose the training of these people to assume in ever-increasing measure the care of their own affairs.

No Funds Sent From Colonies
Referring to the widespread belief that Britain makes levies on the colonies and that their surplus revenues are applied annually to the British Exchequer, Mr. McDonald said that the British Government is wholly untrue and that, on the contrary, the Government in London receives no money from them. When the Colonies are unable to raise from their own resources sufficient money to procure their welfare, the taxpayer in Britain is taxed to help. In the last budget introduced before the British parliament nearly 5,000,000 Canadian dollars amounts to approximately 300,000,000 Canadian dollars was provided for expenditure on development and welfare in the Colonies. This was only one year ago, and it is planned that larger sums will be devoted to this purpose during the next ten years. The war was won at a tremendous cost in human life and suffering and in order that the victory may be permanent it is necessary that distrust and suspicion be replaced with confidence, and that we base our convictions on truth rather than on vicious accusations.

New Treatment

Being Used For Brain Disease By Surgeons in Britain

A new technique likely to revolutionize the treatment of brain disease has been developed at Saint Mary's Hospital, London. The patient is injected with a solution of manganous green dye. The effect is to turn the blood vessels in the brain green. The normal tissue remains white. So well defined is the space between normal tissue and the area damaged by the disease that the surgeon is able to remove the white, outer damage of the brain as a whole. The London Daily Express reports that the consultant neurologist at the hospital has so far carried out 12 operations with the aid of this dye. He is convinced that it will reduce the death rate from brain diseases not only by ensuring the complete removal of the diseased part but by providing a better record of trouble. The dye methods opens up a new approach to the investigation of epilepsy, the cause of which is still unknown.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

TRUTH ETERNAL

What we have in us of the image of God is the love of truth and justice.

To this was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth.—Jesus, John 18:37.

Christ did not always speak the truth, but in truth, truth, through and through; for truth is a thing of words, but of life and being.—Robertson.

Truth is in a hurry; it may be at an moment detected and punished; truth is calm; serene; its judge is on high; its kin come out in the chambers of eternity.—Joseph Parker.

The greatest friend of truth is time; her greatest enemy is prejudice; and her constant companion is humility.

The ideals of primitive Christianity are high, even at our door. Truth is not lost in the mists of remoteness or the barbarisms of spiritless codes.—Mary Baker Eddy.

BIG SHIPMENT OF B.C. APPLES
When the SS. Pipiriki sailed across the Pacific Ocean to Australia in April, 1941, carrying 200,000 cases of B.C. apples for Britain, the largest single shipment of Canadian apples ever made from Canada. The shipment was made by the Special Products Board and will arrive in England in time for Christmas. The Pipiriki is making the voyage via the Panama Canal.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—I heard on the radio the other day that we would be getting more preserves coupons to buy preserves during December. Will you kindly give me more information on this?

A.—Instead of one stamp and two preserves coupons being valid during December, we will have three. This will increase the amount of sugar, but, if more preserves are desired for Christmas, the same price will be the same. Coupon P22, P23, P24 and P25 become valid on December 20.

Q.—We are going to have a bazaar and want to sell butter and other rationed foods. Will it be necessary to get a permit to do this?

A.—It is necessary to collect rationing coupons for rationed commodities. You must, however, first receive permission from your local rationing board to sell rationed goods at bazaars.

Q.—Are restaurants allowed to raise prices?

A.—No restaurant may raise the price that they charge for meals unless they first receive permission to do so from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Q.—Are Christmas cards under a ceiling price?

A.—Yes. Christmas cards must not be sold at a price higher than 20 cents. Dealers may charge extra for printing the name and address of the customer on the "personal" type of greeting card.

Q.—Please send your questions or comments to the "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your wartime prices, mentioning the name of the store and the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Many People Enjoy Reading A In Books and Magazines

Many ways have Kipling returned to England since his visit in Vermont for some years. He asked a friend to mail him his books and to send weight in mailing he clipped off all the air. Kipling protested, "That's not fair," but his friend was the most interesting part of all.

Just recently the wife of an American author sent him a copy of the same thing. Her husband wrote back:

"For Pete's sake, don't let me out of all the ads. You have no idea what a good time I am having in current magazines and read the ads over and over, finding in them a familiar reflection of life going on back home."

FILM PROGRAMS

For Spreading Information On Public Health In Rural Areas

Country doctors and district nurses have found National Film Programmes a valuable source of spreading information on public health. They frequently act as the Board's field representatives to the Canadian public and speak on how suggestions in the films for improving or maintaining health may be applicable locally. At these showings, other officials also have an opportunity to answer questions on particular problems and discuss the use of the films with the Provincial Departments of Public Health.

Several films are used to draw attention to common sources of danger to health, such as infection and pestilence, and to show what precautions should be taken against them. Films on personal hygiene, food safety, and the prevention of disease against disease are also shown as part of a preventive campaign.

Home-heated support has been given by the Board to fight against tuberculosis, diphtheria and V.D. Films are used to spread the message of checking these diseases and to inform them of the assistance available to those suffering from rural and provincial health services.

A growing interest in plans for health care has been evident in hospital care and in the cooperation of medical men and the public with special request, films have been shown showing the progress of this work. The film "Health Care" is an excellent guide to the work of the CWAC.

The establishment of rural dental clinics is another health project to which the Board has given much attention. This film shows the work of the dental corps in practice. The film "Dental Health" is an excellent guide to the work of the dental corps.
